Lo-fi: The design focuses on a real-time map showing driver location and a delivery window showing estimate time of arrival and order state. From this design, users are able to recognize easily when to expect their orders of cinnamon rolls to come.